

There are more mobile phones per capita in Ghana than there are in China or India

In 2011, Ghana had more mobile subscribers per capita than India or China and at 85 per 100 people, is close to the USA at 92 per 100 people. Ghana is a key mobile market in Africa, which is the world's fastest mobile growth market.

Ghana has become one of the continent's most vibrant mobile markets with six mobile operators providing services. Alongside the operators, application developers are meeting new demands for banking, health and learning services.
